The HATCHET

Being the Year-Book
of
WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY
Volume XVIII

Published by the Class of 1921

FOREWORD

The pageant of discontinuity which marches across the pages of this book embodies a higher than apparent significance: it symbolizes achievement, vitality, promise of rationalism.

And today, perhaps more than during any crucial historic epoch, are those qualities cryingly requisite for the preservation of evolutionary ideal. The year nineteen hundred twenty is threshold of reconstruction both social and spiritual; the future suggests complexity and power which stagger the imagination. Only he shall conquer Tomorrow who brings to the convocation of progress equipment such as this record would approximate, equipment for unifying life by comprehending and loving it.

To

The Newest of Washington's Deans:

Walter Edward McCourt

Who, by Unsparing Efforts and the
Unselfish Devotion of His Time,
Brought into Being the
Washington Union,
Organized and Established the
Washington Alumni Clubs

Alma Mater

Dear Alma Mater,
Thy name is sweet to me,
Our hearts are all for thee,
Fair Washington.

Thy halls shall honored be,
Throughout this great country
For all eternity,
Our Washington.

Those days of youth which
All of us spent with thee
Form a dear history,
Fair Washington.

Could they renewed be,
We'd live our days with thee,
For all eternity,
Our Washington.

The Junior Prom

BENEATH a clear blue, star-sprinkled sky, with the moon shining down its approval, Miss Viola McCullen, vice-president of the class of 1921, was announced the Hatchet Queen for 1921 at the Junior Prom on the night of March 12 and was presented with a large bouquet of roses as she sat on her throne surrounded by the excited dancers.

It was indeed a beautiful picture that was revealed to the eye as the curtains were drawn back from the throne and the spot-light flooded the dais where Miss McCullen was seated, with the three other candidates, Misses Mildred Petring, Isabelle Runk and Gayle Anderson, standing as her attendants.

Miss McCullen was gowned in a gorgeous French model of white taffeta with a bodice of taffeta and sapphire blue sequins and a skirt with bewitching bouffant paniers. The effect was very queenly.

Miss Petring's gown was of shadow lawn green charmeuse, with the new French collar and a harem skirt. She carried an apricot feather fan.

Miss Runk wore an orchid satin creation trimmed with silver and beautifullly draped from the shoulders in the back.

Francis Gym was transformed for the occasion into a setting which made it a ballroom well worthy of the climax of the University social year. The decorations were in purple and gold with vari-colored lights throwing their glow out from the sides so as to aid the starlit sky in producing the effect of a perfect June evening silvered by the moonlight.

From the balcony the effect was more than gorgeous as the spotlight played upon one couple and then another, revealing dashes of color of almost as many variations as the number of feminine dancers.

The guests of the Junior Class who acted as chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McCullen, Dr. and Mrs. Rider, Dr. and Mrs. Lippincott, Mr. and Mrs. Theophilus Conzelman, Miss Edith Fenton, Dr. and Mrs. Shipley, and Dr. Francis Walker.

Commerce and Finance Building

WORK on the erection of the building for the School of Commerce and Finance will begin early this summer, as soon as the vacation period begins. It will be completed by Christmas, and ready for occupancy at the beginning of the second semester next year, contractors have announced.

The new building has been donated to Washington University by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Duncker of Brentmoor Park, in remembrance of their son, Capt. Charles H. Duncker, Jr., '14, who was killed in France. Henry P. Duncker, '19, brother of Capt. Duncker, was the first graduate of the School of Commerce and Finance.

The new building, to be named the Charles H. Duncker, Jr., Hall of Commerce and Finance, will occupy the northwest corner of the first Quadrangle, and will extend on the eastern extremity to the Sophomore wall, which lies between Cupples I and Ridgley Library.

"Jest Folks"

"I've jest figgered out," said a patient one day,
As he looked at the nurse in a queer, puzzled way—
"A whole lot of ideas 'bout nurses are jokes,
An' the truth of the whole matter is they're 'jest folks.'
Now Aunt Mary Judkins was out here last year,
The good Lord havin' clean plum forgot her left ear;
An' one of them doctors—now this hain't no fib—
Made her one jest as good out of part of her rib;
An' she raved 'bout the 'dear angels of light,'
An' 'unselfish service' an' 'visions in white,'
An' 'unparalleled devotion' an 'a lot of sech things,
'Till you'd tho't that they'd all had a halo and wings.
Then Cousin John Smythe, over Forest Park way,
Took one of 'em out to a theater play,
An' his ma when she heard it fell right in a faint
An' said they were creatures of powder an' paint;
An' smoked cigarettes an' their morals were low—
'How could he disgrace their proud family name so?'
Now I've never found one that was wholly a saint,
But most have ideals, tho' some of them hain't;
So terribly visible, no better nor worse,
Than the average young woman that hain't been no nurse.
An' you mayn't believe it, but I'll have you know,
They've a regular school here for nurses to go.
An' 'bout every time that I'm wantin' a glass
Of fresh water to drink, why they've all gone to class.
Now one nurse explained it—I think in this way—
They've theoretical work for a part of the day.
Then with that as a starter (Lord, help a poor cuss)
They come down an' work out all their theories on us;
An' then this nurse told me they all had to get
Diplomas from high schools, an' lots 'm, you bet,
Has gone on to college an' maybe clear thru;
An' they take up this work jest because they want to.
An' you ought to hear all that they're plannin' to do,
No two have the same occupation in view.
'Institutional work,' 'infant welfare,' 'the school,'
'Public health work,' or 'slumming,' an' a very few who'll
Be the final, sure proof that my reason' ain't hoax,
An' after all's said—why they're 'jest common folks,'
For a few after making their wonderful plan
Will give up a reg'lar career for a man."

Football Review

ITH the ball in Washington's possession one foot from Missouri's goal line, the final period was drawing dangerously near the close. Eleven thousand spectators were on their feet cheering hoarsely. The carefully arranged human W in the Washington stands was a confused, chaotic riot of red and green, exhorting the Pikers to exert one last effort to gain the needed foot. The Missouri side was frantically entreating its players to "hold that line." Francis Field had never witnessed such feverish excitement before. Missouri had already scored, and the Pikeway eleven, in a last desperate effort had worked the ball down the field by means of line bucks, end runs, and a daring pass, to within twelve inches of the enemy's goal and a tied score. Only one play remained. It had taken three to advance the ball from the twenty-yard line.

The quarterback frantically barked out his signals, which were almost drowned out by the furor in the stands. The center snapped back the ball and the tense lines merged into a tumbling, struggling mass with the leather oval and the Pikeway's hopes somewhere beneath it. There was a convulsive heaving. The referee's whistle sounded and, peeling off the players, he dove into the fighting heap for the ball. The stands were momentarily silent. Then the Piker substitutes on the bench, thinking the ball had been pushed over, leaped up dancing and waving their sweaters about them. A cheer arose from the Washington side and then the referee raised his hand and signalled towards the east goal. The ball had been found in the grasp of a prostrate player four inches on the wrong side of the line. It was the first down for Missouri. The Tiger stands were in an uproar. Old-grad and student danced about gleefully and women cheered excitedly, for the hardest opponent in the Valley had been met and narrowly defeated. It meant the Valley title. A dull gloom settled about the south stands. The Tigers kicked off and shortly afterwards the game ended.

Those few moments when the ball was so near the goal were the climax of Washington's football season. The defeat had been bitter but far from disgraceful. Truly, as much glory was won by the vanquished as by the conquerors. The Pikeway men had given Missouri, with a team of far more collegiate experience and more evenly balanced, a fight that has never been equaled on a local gridiron. Until the last minute of play, Washington was on the offensive and until the final whistle had sounded, the Tigers were never sure of victory.

Before that game, only one defeat had been met, when the Pikers felt the teeth of the Drake bulldog. The score was 14 to 13. But that defeat alone did not interfere with Washington's championship aspirations for there was no doubt as to the superiority of the Red and Green. It has before been told how Washington was fighting against not only the eleven men of the Drake team but also against an over-discerning referee who was an ardent advocate of the scoring by the Pikers of at least one "practice" touchdown for every one that added to the score.

The year opened auspiciously enough. With such men as Jimmy Conzelman, quarterback of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station championship eleven; Fred Potthoff, Al Marquard, George Berger, Henry Griesedieck, Joe Hausladen, Ollie Kraehe and Harold Lippert, veterans of the S.A.T.C. team, which won the Missouri Valley Conference title, even the habitually reticent Coach Rutherford admitted that "Prospects have never been brighter." In addition to these men there was a great amount of promising material, and the quadrangle radiated a spirit of happy confidence.

The first Conference game was with Drury College of Springfield on October 11. Washington had little trouble with the Drury team, scoring almost at will. The final score was 51 to 0 despite a wet and muddy field, which hampered the speed of the backs.

The second game of the season was with Kansas Agricultural College. The Aggies, with a strong eleven and Hugh Huston, one of the best drop-kickers in the Conference, had started the year successfully and were believed to be strong contenders for the title. The game was full of thrills and "breaks" were frequent, but Washington emerged triumphant by a score of 19 to 9. Conzelman scored both touchdowns for the Pikeway and was the outstanding star. Lippert and Kraehe also played good games, breaking through the Aggies' line and many times stopping the runner before he had got under way.

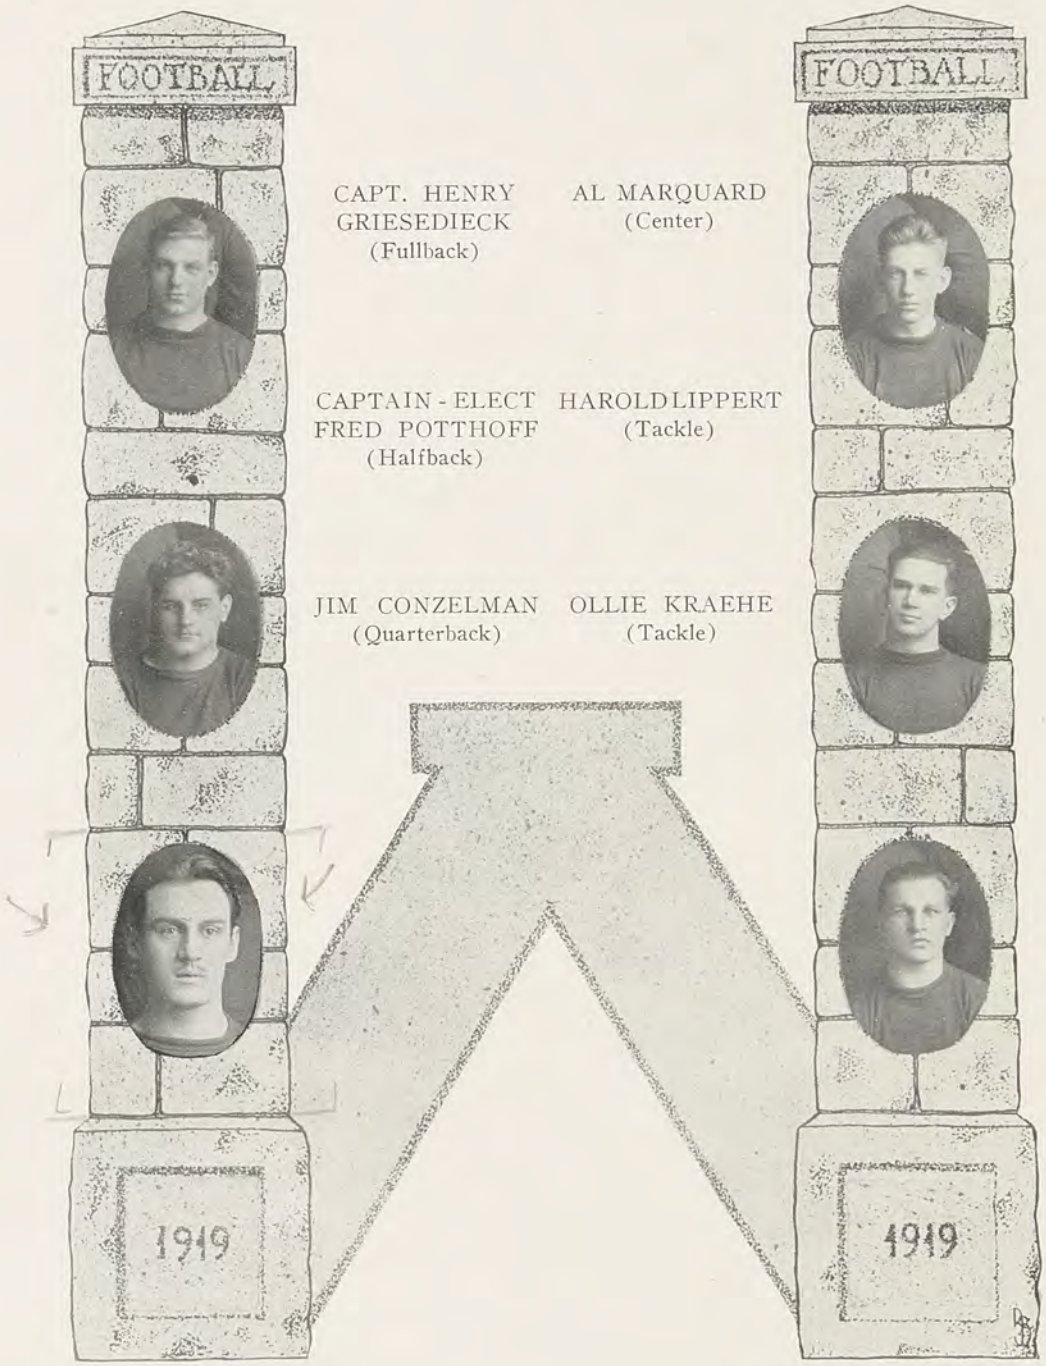

Perhaps somewhat overconfident, the Pikers met Grinnell the following week. Although reported to have a weak team, the opponents succeeded in holding Washington to a 14 to 0 score. Conzelman again was the outstanding star, making the first touchdown by a 78-yard run through an open field the first time he got the ball. A muddy field detracted somewhat from the game and undoubtedly prevented a larger score.

The Rolla Miners with an unusually strong team fell before Washington's plunging eleven by a score of 29 to 0 on November 1. Gil Whitley substituted for Conzelman at the kick-off, and although he played a very creditable game, the Pikers were able to score only one touchdown in the first half. Jimmy took his place at the opening of the second half, and from then on the team seemed to have new life. First Conzelman kicked a field goal from the 30-yard line. Then he manipulated several passes resulting in a touchdown by Hausladen; caught a punt on Washington's 35-yard line and ran for a touchdown; and caught a pass from Kraehe and ran 20 yards to Rolla's 10-yard line, then went through for a goal.

The only trip of the year was made November 8, and resulted in the first defeat of the Pikers in two years. The Drake team at Des Moines, Ia., although clearly outplayed in every angle of the game, won, 14 to 13. A faithful contingent had followed the team north. Many of them bet heavily on the game, reserving only enough to pay the fare to Des Moines. Credit must be given for their return to an indulgent railroad conductor and conveniently constructed coaches.

But the spirit of conquest had not been quenched on the campus. Clearly the team was playing wonderful football—football that was easily superior to any being played by the other Valley teams.

Basketball Review

EVEN the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place has its exceptions. Something very much akin to "chained" lightning for the second time this year struck and completely wrecked the house wherein the Pikeway basketball team was to reside as champions of the Missouri Valley Conference. That Missouri "chain" contained five links, all fitted together perfectly, and the Pikers are proud of the fact that they finished second only to the Tigers in the Conference. The record of eleven Conference games won and five lost is the best that has ever been made by a Pikeway basketball team.

After several practice games with local high school fives, the Tiger quintet was met in a two-game series at Francis Gymnasium. The first game was close and well played, Missouri emerging as the winner by only five points. But in the second tilt the Pikers showed the effect of the lack of training and were wholly unable to meet the Tiger attack, losing by a wide margin. In no wise disheartened, Coach Rutherford spent the next two weeks in polishing the rough spots in his machine and in eliminating the long pass which had proved so inadequate against the state team. The effect was a clean sweep of all the games played in the North. Ames was beaten twice and Grinnell and Drake each succumbed once. Such a thing as four Conference victories abroad was heretofore unheard of and a new mark was set in Washington's basketball history. On its return home the varsity met and defeated Drake twice. Drake scored but four points in the second game. After Drake, Grinnell was turned back twice. The varsity won and lost one to Oklahoma on that team's first appearance on the Pikeway floor. By this time the Piker machine was running smoothly and with precision. Every man was fighting and the passing was perfect.

Hopes ran high when the team journeyed to Columbia to meet the Tigers in the two games that would decide which team would win the Valley title. But the Tigers also had improved, and they won the two games and the championship title. The first game went by a top-heavy score, but the varsity came back strong in the second contest, losing the lead only in the last few minutes of play. With the title irretrievably lost and this the last Conference game, every man on the team showed the packed Rothwell Gymnasium the old Piker grit by fighting every inch of the way and refusing to give up until the final whistle blew. The last games at Francis Gym were with St. Louis U., resulting in two victories for the Red and Green, giving Washington the local collegiate title for the sixth successive year.

Prospects for next year are bright, as only two men will be lost through graduation. This was the last year for Al Marquard and Don Russell. Each man has played three years on the varsity and both have captained the team. Their shoes will be hard to fill. Marquard was the best floor man seen on a Washington team for some time, while Russell was the "fightin'est" man on the team. Henry Hurd, the high point man of the team, has two more years to play. Harold Lippert, Ollie Kraehe, Joe Hausladen, Tom Thompson, Ray Linnemeyer, Pinckney McElwee, and Duncan McCallum will also be back next year.

The Track Season

THE Pikeway track outlook for the season of 1920 appears to be brighter than ever before in the history of the university. For the first time in the annals of the cinder path sport, the 'varsity will be represented by more than the handful three or four at the Missouri Valley Conference meet at Ames. But the best part of all is what is still to come, in the form of the Freshmen who will be eligible for 'varsity competition next year.

This year's 'varsity is expected to be represented by Captain Morris Jacks in the 440 and 880, Williams in the 880, Marsh and Everly in the same distances Goldschmitt, Auer and Drake in the century and 220-yard dashes. Dick Kremer will be ready to add a few more points for the Red and Green in the weights, while Lippert and Potthoff have been heaving the weights around in an effort to aid Kremer in swelling the Pikeway total.

An outsider was engaged this year to train the track athletes. Coach Castleman, who had made a reputation at McKinley High, took charge of the men early in the season, getting them in readiness for the Muny indoor meet. In addition the coach intends to line up a strong outdoor schedule, which will include the Muny meet, intra-class competition, and three dual meets in addition to the annual Valley meet.

As every athlete is eligible for the Muny indoor meet, Coach Castleman sent in the following representation:

Drake, Anderwert and Bremser in the 50-yard dash.

Jacks, Rowley and Hoagland in the 440-yard dash.

Williams, Schultz and Tremlett in the 880-yard run.

Drake, Thumser and Leffler in the high jump.

A strong relay team, which is expected to win first place with ease.

At this writing, the Municipal meet had not been staged, but it is confidently expected that the Pikeway entry will romp off with the scoring.

Last year's track season was fairly successful despite the fact that the 'varsity representatives failed to score a single point. Drake, Harvey, Pemberton and Jacks were sent to the Valley meet at Ames, but the competition proved too fast for this quartet.

Still, the Pikeway team, composed of Freshmen and 'varsity, won the dual indoor meet with St. Louis U., took the point trophy in the Muny indoor meet, and won the point trophy in the outdoor Muny meet.

Pan-Hellenic Baseball Champs

Finn Zoeller Whitley Meyers Metz Thomas Kamp Henry Sauls Miller

HONORS in Pan-Hellenic baseball of the spring '19 were again won by the Theta Xi nine following some well-played games by the fraternities at Francis Field.

The Theta Xi Fraternity won the Drosten Trophy again and now has two consecutive years towards its permanent possession. The trophy was presented to the fraternities by William G. Drosten several years ago with the understanding that the trophy, when won three years in succession by a fraternity, should become its permanent possession. With practically the same team for the spring of '20, Theta Xi is counting on annexing the cup for permanent possession.

The teams were divided into two divisions, A and B, each team playing the other once in its respective division. The winners of the two divisions, the Theta Xis and the Phi Delta Thetas, played the first two games of the three-game series, the Theta Xis winning both of them.

The Theta Xi team showed its superiority in all departments of the game and were never in serious danger of being beaten.

Tennis

LITTLE is known of the tennis prospects for this season, in that no word has been received as yet by Coach Rutherford as to what action will be taken by the Valley Conference officials to place tennis on the list of active competitive sports. Should the conference decide to enroll tennis on the same basis as baseball, track and the other competitive sports, Washington University's tennis team can be counted upon to come close to winning the Valley honors.

Virtually every member of the five that represented the Pikeway in the St. Louis Tennis Association club tourney last year is back in school this year. Ray Epstein is the only missing player.

Eligible for 'varsity competition this spring are Walter Haase, Val Satterfield and Wray Brown. These men are among the best tennis players in the city, while the addition of Ted Drewes, city, state, county and Central States single champion, should make the Pikeway net team strong contenders in the St. Louis Tennis Association club tourney this year. All save Drewes will be eligible for 'varsity play, Drewes being a Freshman in the School of Dentistry.

Last year's team finished second in its division in the St. Louis Tennis club's tourney. The members of this team were Haase, first man; Satterfield, second, and Epstein, third.

Thyrsus Review

The Annual

IN the presentation of The Admirable Crichton at the Shubert-Jefferson Theater, May 16, Thyrsus pulled itself out of the mire of "plays for amateurs" into which the 1918 Annual had flung it. Throughout the year the Annual Committee struggled and floundered, but finally plucked up bravely—or perhaps with bravado—and chose one of J. M. Barrie's best and most difficult plays, of which the newspapers remarked, "Not an easy play even for trained professionals." But the performers were well cast in their parts; they were given one of the finest theaters in town; they had gone through the kneading and molding process of Mr. Solari's coaching. Youthful fervor did all else that was needed to make the play successful. The actors seemed to have a fine grasp of the poetry and fairy tale of the play, but they missed a great deal of the fun of the farcical situation.

George Wettle, as the eccentric Lord Loam with an egalitarian hobby, played with a vivacity and spontaneity which raised his acting above the average amateur in the scale of genuineness.

Throughout the play Morris Carnovsky, as Crichton, deserved the hero-butler's inseparable epithet "admirable." The niceness of his acting was commendable—as well as the appropriate dignity and solemnity with which he took the ironic humor of the part.

Miss Casey Spear, as the Lady Mary, spoiled darling of Lord Loam, showed versatility in her changes from sophisticated boredom to the winsome, boyish animation of "Polly," and back again to a rather softened and graciously nonchalant Lady Mary.

Kennett McMath made the worthless but witty young Ernest a very amiable and likeable chap. Miss Julia Jonah was very appealing as Tweeny. Perhaps a more sustained brightness and animated vulgarity would have added to the portrayal. Emerson Conzelman played the familiar "eyeglass and gaitored" Lord, and Adele Grafeman, as Lady Brocklehurst, managed graciously the engineering of Act IV.

Miss Mignon Rosenthal, as Lady Catherine, and Miss Gertrude Walther, as Lady Agatha, acted with ease and charm. Jack Becker, as Treherne, made a fine young parson and lover.

Misses Weakley, Curtiss, Jackes, Mueller, Poertner, May, and Messrs. Hastings and Sack, played the minor roles.

The Mellerdrammer

The Diamonds of Death or Duncan Dillingham's Dilemma, a play in four acts by Alfred N. Sack and Sylvan Agatstein, played two successive evenings and a matinee to capacity houses.

It is absolutely certain that this play contained the most exhaustive collection of melodramatic expression known to the English language. The ground is minutely covered—from the childish treble of "Father, I am starving," all the way to "Curses, foiled again!"

The plot—we have forgotten. Was there one? At any rate we are sure that even the most pedantic in the audience found himself moved to tears at the sufferings of the fair Marie and the handsome Duncan—in real life Adele Grafeman and Hixon Kinsella. The audience became hysterically joyous at the final ruin of Glycerine Pete, still living in the farm of Louis Roth. They—the audience again—found their nails biting into their palms in the excitement of the fray; and almost fainted with relief at the death of Hideous Hammond.

The exquisite bunch of white radishes received by Miss Dorothy Jackes testified to the exceptional histrionic powers of that young lady in the part of Neamel, the French maid. Lea Dick made her reputation as a juvenile actress in this production with her "Father, I am starving." Pink McElwee and Fred Pavey exhibited unusual talent in the art of dying. Max Muench was "dauntless"; Cal Hermer was "sleuthish"; Syl. Agatstein was "dopey"; Fred Pavey was "hideous"—all as the program stated.

VACATION EXTENDED

POTTOFF CHOSEN TO LEAD 1920 FOOTBALL TEAM

ALL-VALLEY BACKFIELD MAN ELECTED PIKERS' CAPTAIN AT BANQUET IN HONOR OF FOOTBALL TEAM

CONZELMAN'S SONG WINS

JUDGE CALHOUN CRITICISES PREDOMINANCE OF FRATERNITY POLITICS IN STUDENT AFFAIRS

"Pete" Pottoff, Varsity halfback and All-Valley fullback, was chosen captain of the 1920 football team at the dinner Saturday evening at the M. A. A. given by the Washington Union in honor of the 1919 eleven. Jessie Conzelman was announced as the winner of the $10 prize in the Song Contest, and the Junior members of "31" were made known.

Pottoff played four years on the K. A. T. C championship team and covered himself with gridiron fame this season. Although most of Conzelman's admirers expected him to receive the captaincy, to many the election of Pottoff did not come as a big surprise. Both men are Sophomores and Pottoff has been with the team a year longer than the All-Valley fullback.

Judge John W. Calhoun, president of the Union, opened the proceedings with a toast to Washington University and an address in the form of a tribute appeared interspersed by cries of frequent interest, and the election of Pete elicited "nine rahs" for that venerable pest.

Fraternity Politics Scored

He complained that fraternity politics are controlling the student affairs to a great extent, and that this condition is resulting many times in keeping the right men from receiving deserved honor. He said: "In the old days fraternity politics were not known. Men were chosen then for their 'merit alone.'" He stated that merit be the sole qualification in the choice of student leaders.

Robert Brookings, president of the Corporation, and Chancellor Frederick A. Hall, entertained Athletic and Alumni Council and Alumni Council. The Chancellor remarked that the team's achievements have gained Washington more newspaper recognition than all the research and literary work done by the faculty. He recommended student participation in school activities, saying that the versatility of the man at the school will be reflected throughout the rest of his life.

Professor Walter Michaud presided, the "W"s, the qualified letters, and the Freshman numerals to the squad. He observed that the Union now numbers 1500 alumni and 1200 students.

Prospects for a winning team next year were commented upon by Coach Dick Brotherton, Captain Henry Drisdelleer, and Captain-elect Pottoff. Football in the old days was told about by Judge Edwin W. Lee, '93, formerly All-American tackle, and Baldwin Aiken, Varsity halfback in 1911.

Dr. Eliot Sana and Professor Philo Stevenson, '91, were also on the program of speakers.

Eleven Juniors Picked For Class Honorary Society

SELECTIONS MADE BY "31" ARE ANNOUNCED AT FOOTBALL DINNER SATURDAY

Eleven members of the class of 1921 were selected last week for "31," the Junior honorary society. The men were initiated last Wednesday night. Announcement of the selection was made at the "W" dinner.

The new "31" members are:

Robert P. Barnsley, business manager of the 1921 Hatchet, Lock and Chain.

Joe Boeze, Student Council, Law Review Board, Stump, Thyrsus.

Van Brokaw, football manager 1918, 1919, STUDENT LIFE staff.

Harry Gyrsenbeck, football captain 1919, Lock and Chain.

H. Guy Herring, Editor-in-Chief of the 1921 Hatchet, Class president Sophomore year, STUDENT LIFE staff.

Dick Kramer, football, track.

Pinckney McElwee, president Thyrsus, business manager Glee Musicale, Glee Club, basket ball.

Irwin Rothberg, President Stump, assistant business manager of Thyrsus, advertising manager STUDENT LIFE.

Henry Sincere, Stump, Thyrsus.

Al Wells, business manager of the Glee and Mandolin Clubs, assistant business manager STUDENT LIFE, business manager Thyrsus, associate editor 1921 Hatchet, Obelisk, Lock and Chain.

Eli Whitley, football.

Considerable excitement was caused because "31" failed to pick the president of the Junior class. This is also the Class Major, a member of Stump and a member of last year's Student Council. Surprise was also expressed because of the omission of two other men. One of these is said to be the speaker of both Stump and Thyrsus, a member of the Student Council, and associate editor of STUDENT LIFE. The other is a member of Stump, on the Law Review Board, exhibition manager in the 1921 Hatchet, and assistant circulation manager of the Thyrsus.

DUNCKER POST OF LEGION WILL GIVE DANCE JAN. 2

The Charles Henry Duncker, Jr., Post of the American Legion will give a dance at Tripp's on Friday evening, January 2. Tickets are on sale now by members of the American Legion on the Campus. Admission is $1.00.

All the students of the University, whether legion members or not, are invited to attend the affair. Brooke Thompson, '18, and G. D. Bartlett, '20, are in charge of the dance.

Resolution Against Cheek Dancing Is Adopted By Women

HYGIENE CLASS DECIDES TO TABOO INSANITARY DANCE HABIT

The unhygienic practice of "cheek dancing" has been tabooed by the Freshman co-eds. The class in hygiene, composed of about 150 Frosh women and a few Sophomores, passed a resolution Friday to rid the school of the cheek to cheek embrace. The action was taken at the recommendation of Miss Gurley Dixon, athletic instructor.

Only five women championed the method. The reasons advanced by the abolishment of the cheek dancing was that it is insanitary. Imagine, as it gives the Oodle germ many opportunities for its destructive work.

The objections raised to the passing of the resolution were that it is impossible to dance any other way than cheek to cheek because of the way that the men hold their feminine partners.

PAT KINEALY AND AL WELLE WIN FAVOR ON KEOD VODVIL BILL

A "Revue Bonsard," "Super Impersonations" and the "Miracle Play" featured the program of the Keod Vodvil in the Student Building Saturday afternoon.

The Revue by the Pi Phi chapter was a picture of the beautiful girls lured by a handsome youth during his summer vacation. The "Super Impersonations" caricatural bandits figures around the Campus. Al Welle and Pat Kinealy were the headliners in this act.

The Thyrsus stunt furnished great amusement, especially to the co-eds. Pat Kinealy was placed at the head of the popular "bosses" of the Quad.

The dancing novelty by Miss Pauline Turner was pleasing as were also the acts by the Delta Gammas, McMillan Hall and the Pi Mu Alphas.

Women's Christmas Party To Be Held Friday Afternoon

ANNUAL AFFAIR TO BE STAGED IN GYMMIE WITH GIFTS AND A SANTA CLAUS

The annual Christmas party of the women of the University will be held Friday evening, beginning at 5:30, in the Gymnasium. The affair is under the direction of the Women's Self Government Association.

The party, which is traditional, will begin with the assembly by groups in the various rooms at McMillan Hall when the women will eat their suppers. Following the supper, the party will meet in the Gymmie where there will be a Christmas tree and a Santa Claus (Miss Frances Boorman) to distribute gifts.

In each of the groups which will assist the supper there will be twenty women. Two groups will eat together. Presents whose value has been limited to ten cents will be exchanged.

The party will be over by 8:00, said Miss Edna Mae Harris, chairman of the committee in charge, so that there will be no conflict between the women's affair and the Lock and Chain dance which will be held Friday night in the Gymnasium.

The party is being held early this year because of the action Monday of the University authorities in extending the Christmas holidays. It was originally planned to hold the party on December 23.

UNION MINSTREL SHOW IN JANUARY; BARTLETT WANTS NOVELTY-ACT TRY-OUTS

Preparations for the Men's Union minstrel show which will be staged next month are rapidly going forward, according to Dan Bartlett, director of the entertainment.

All men who think they can take part in the show are urged to consult Bartlett for a try-out. Musicians, comedians, dancers, singers, novelty actors, or any two or three who can put on a sketch, will be given the opportunity to perform by asking Bartlett.

The Glee and Mandolin Clubs will form the nucleus for the show. The date will be announced later, and will probably be toward the end of the semester.

SPENCER ELECTED HEAD OF JUNIOR LAW CLASS

Karl Pate Spencer was elected president of the Junior Law Class at its first meeting Monday morning. Spencer, a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity, attended Missouri U. before entering the Marine Corps in 1917. He spent 22 months in France as a lieutenant in the famous 5th Marines, winning a Croix-de-Guerre for bravery in action.

Other officers elected were Henry Arthur, vice-president; John Williams, secretary; Jimmy Conselman, treasurer. Thomas Killeen, Hatcher representative; Julius J. Salvagni, sergeant-at-arms.

CHANCELLOR AND DEANS AGREE TO LONGER VACATION

GRANT STUDENT COUNCIL REQUEST TO CLOSE SATURDAY AND REMAIN CLOSED UNTIL JANUARY 5.

MEDICAL SCHOOL EXCEPTED

SCHEDULE THERE MAKES PLAN INEFFECTIVE, BUT DEAN IS IN FAVOR OF EXTENSION TO MEDICS

The Christmas holidays have been extended. The University will close at 12:30 next Saturday afternoon and will not re-open until Monday morning, January 5.

The decision to extend the Christmas holidays was made Monday afternoon by Chancellor Hall and the deans of the several schools of the University following a conference with the executive committee of the Student Council. The extension means that the original plan to hold classes on December 22 and 23 and on January 2 and 3 has been superseded by the new arrangement to terminate scholastic work on 1919 on Saturday and not to begin until the first Monday in January.

Following an editorial suggestion in STUDENT LIFE last week that the holiday period be extended, President Hatcher of the Student Council visited the Chancellor and the deans and obtained their assent to a meeting Monday with the respective committees of the Men's and Women's Councils for the purpose of presenting the matter to the authorities.

Dinner and Miss Hyadee Allen, president of the Women's Council, explained the request to the University officials, and after discussion the decision was reached.

Action Not to Be Precedent

Following the decision on the extension of the time, Dr. Hall stated that the request was granted this year because of the advent of both Christmas and New Year's Day in the middle of the week, an occurrence which materially affected the holiday arrangement. He stated that in subsequent years when the holidays would come at one end of the week or the other, the need for an extension of the holiday time would not be so great.

Dean James, in stating that he favored the granting of the Council's request, qualified his consent with the statement that the students would have to be held strictly to account for the making up of the four days missed. He said that no relaxation could be made on the requirements of any course because the students missed the recitations on the days which the others have declared holidays.

Students Responsible for Work

The Chancellor and the deans stood, too, that the concession would carry with it the understanding that members of the student body would conscientiously go to classes on the last day of the year and the first school day of the next. They agreed

Introduction

MY latest research into the psychology of a day's work in college leads me to warn you against any further investigation into the profound recesses of this volume. If your higher sense of the aesthetic is in any way perturbed by the realistic rather than the idealistic, view again the first four books of this volume and disdainfully refrain from defiling your psychic self with the fifth and last book.

King of 'Em All

"Stonehenge"—The "Crag"

The Hatchet Harem

The Year

IT was a long, tedious journey. Fully five thousand miles of land and water had been covered, before ex-'21, the old familiar figure on the Washington University quad, succeeded in reaching St. Louis again, and had opened his old home at the Pikeway campus. For ex-'21 had been overseas with Uncle Sam during the great struggle, and now that all was over, did like the hundreds of thousands of other loyal Americans—just returned home and entered the old haunts. But what a change greeted the old familiar steady. The buildings were the same and still there, but so much new life existed. And then ex-'21 went to work and investigated the cause for this new activity.

First thing of all, ex-'21 visited the Registrar's Office. "Old Reliable" Lamke was still there, but oh, how many more names appeared on the school register. Indeed, Washington had more than 3,000 students, the largest enrollment in the history of the institution.

But there were other new things that ex-'21 was to see and hear of for the first time. Out at the dorms, two new social fraternities were listed. Sigma Alpha Mu, which was announced the previous June, was occupying part of Section B, Tower Hall. Phi Omega, a local, announced its existence in February, as did Chi Sigma Phi, the new social sorority. Then there was the A. E. F. Fraternity, Alpha Epsilon Phi, whose members consisted of former members of the overseas forces, ex-'21's own old companions. The Mummies also made known their birth with a big dance at Ridgedale, to which the belles and swains of the university were commanded to appear.

But the social organizations were not the only innovations. Out at the gym, the "W" Club, consisting of wearers of the "W," were engaging in a smoker. The Royal Rooters were showing their wares in the form of pictures taken of its members on the two trips with the 'varsity, one to Des Moines, Iowa, for the Drake football game, and the other to Columbia, Mo., for the Tiger-Piker basketball series.

In the trophy room hung the banner for second place in the basketball race of the Missouri Valley Conference. This was the first time in the history of Washington University that a basketball team had gone so high in the race for the laurels. Outdoors, Coach Works was giving the boys a few pointers on baseball. Yes, the popular pastime was being revived, and was back with the Red and Green as a major sport. Wrestling had been introduced by Coach Rutherford, and fifteen interested lads were hitting the mat with regularity as they went through their paces.

Back to the quad hiked ex-'21. There he learned of the formation of five new clubs, the Classics Club, the Chess Club, the Foreign Relations Club, the Pre-Legal Club and Shell and Anchor Club.

Then he was informed of the visit to Washington University by Royalty early in the fall. King Albert and the Queen, together with Prince Leopold, of Belgium, were tended a royal reception by the students on the occasion of their visit to the campus.

Intercollegiate debating came back strongly, four debates being held during the year.

J. Walter Goldstein is the humorist of the university and is designated by fair admirers as "the cleverest thing." Whenever another boldly uses "Hell" before women Walter may be depended upon to retort off-hand, "Ain't that sweet?" being credited with having first introduced the remark at school. The public always looks to him with open mouths for a quaint statement when he speaks and here we find him about to murmur a few consolations at a friend's funeral. "Let 'er rip," someone (evidently not a relative of the deceased) has just remarked in an undertone. Scoop is about to respond, "Ain't that sweet?"

Young Ratner has a very resonant and oratorical voice and is president of almost everything at Washington, being able to talk loud. He believes in maintaining an attitude of superior dignity at all times and now he is somewhat incensed because he has been unanimously elected sergeant-at-arms of the Stump.

Paul Plummer advocates clandestine secrecy at all times. While one is conversing in the law library with a friend Paul may be depended upon to swoop swiftly, suddenly, and silently upon one and mysteriously draw aside the friend for a significant and consequential confab. The mystic is now contemplating the segregation of an embryonic barrister to tell him privately that the next issue of the Law Review is to have thirty-three pages. He is not quite sure, however, that someone will not attempt to eavesdrop.

DICK WHITTON, circulation manager of most Washington publications, is here quizzically regarding a copy of "The Silent Sepulchre," a monthly booklet on efficient burials for the family dead. It has been sent to him by the exchange editor, who was of the opinion that "The Dirge" is an undertakers' journal.

MR. JOHN HIXON KINSELLA is quite a jokester and prides himself upon his cutting editorials. Here he is placing a sign on the bulletin board in the office of his paper proscribing the Dirge for an article complimenting him upon the keen wit and biting humor of a Student Life editorial on "Why the Grass on the Quadrangle Is Not Green—Are You a Man?" It of course is only a joke to scare the circulation manager; he will later confide. His importance results from his former position as second "looie."

SHRIMP STAUDINGER could never memorize the one about the three little pigs when he was a child, and now he is business manager of Washington University. He can always figure out advertising returns so that they are just sufficient to pay the expenses of putting out the paper and sometimes to give him a small commission. He even managed affairs so that total profits on Student Life for only one semester were almost fifteen dollars.

"PARTY" in D LIGGETT HALL CAUSE OF SENIORS' INVESTIGATION

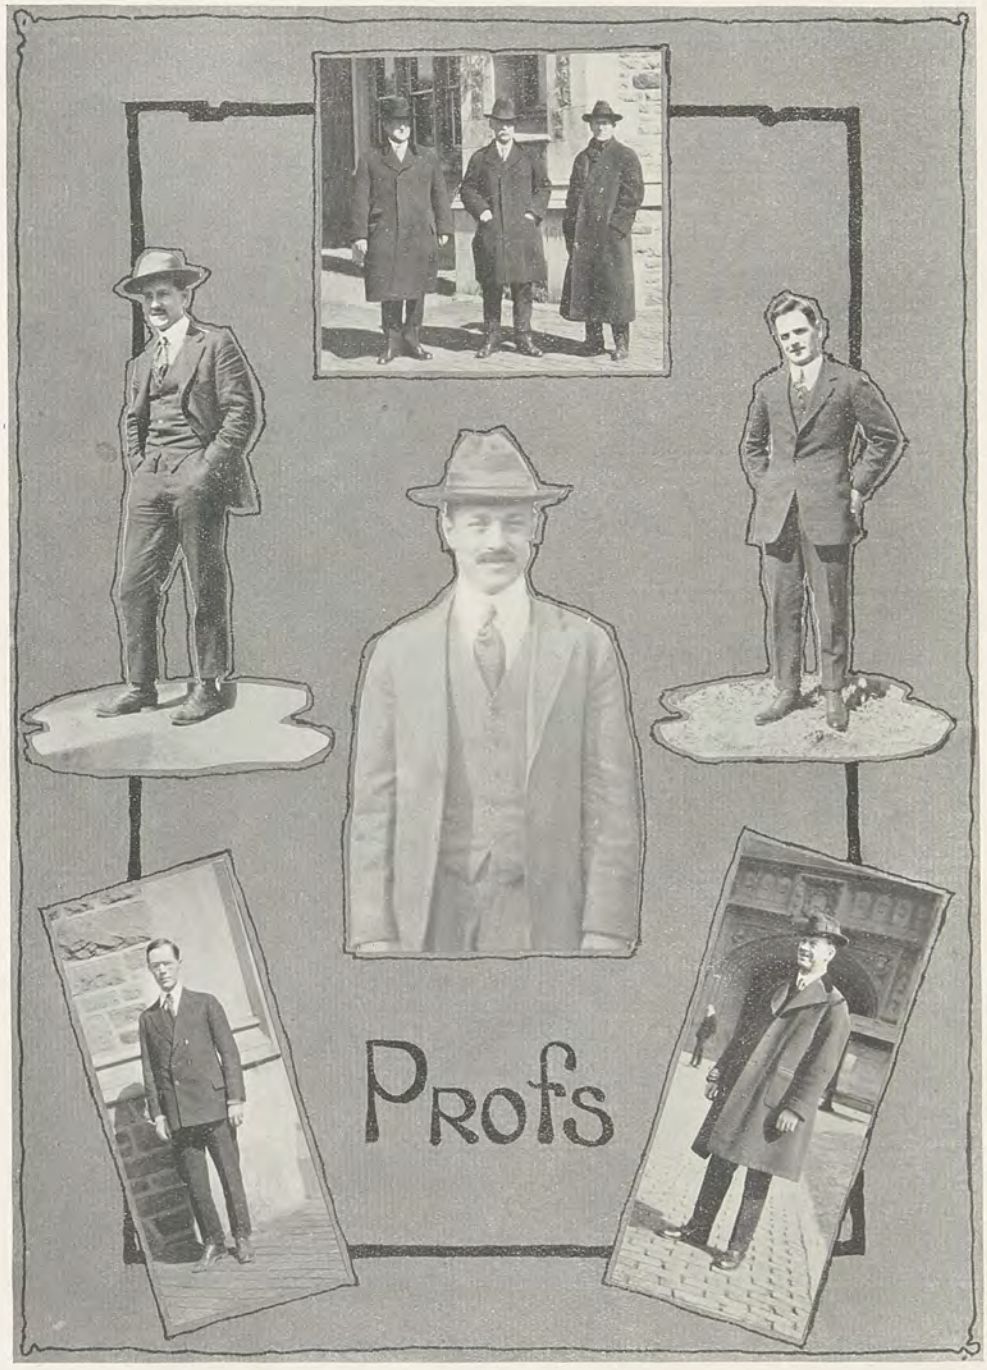

Student Life, October 15, 1919.

Hail, Section D, in Liggett Hall, wherein
'Mid breathless fervor and with whispered din
Long nights 'till Sol dispersed the Stygian glooms,
We gamed in the seclusion of thy rooms!
Now hither, morbid shades, while we
An epic solemn here indite to thee!

— — — — — — — — — — — — — —

Silence—gruesome—dull—and thick—and black—
Dank air as fetid as a mist, alack!
There's something direful seeps about the air
And Cynthia's spirit warns that we beware!
Silence—gruesome—dull—and thick—and black—
What is that crying there in back?
Is it Cerberus, guardian hound of Hell,
Or Satan's legions after us pell-mell?
Shrieks—shrill, piercing, tear apart the night—
Oh, shall we flee? We cannot move for fright!
We're lost! Lord help the innocent, the young,
The Freshmen just from mother's arm who sprung!
Oh, would they mercy show that we might live?
But demons neither quarter ask nor give!

And now they're on us, myriads they seem,
More ghastly than a frightful dream.
They have us now—we dare not move! We're bound—
And then more terrible than before, the sound
Is stilled. We hear no noise, no occult crack,
But silence—gruesome—dull—and thick—and black.
Sternly then they lead us to their lair.
We quake and tremble as we enter there;
For what dire fate have they in store?
The vilest demon speaks: "Frosh, murmur not!"
The hellish judge on his infernal stand
Mounts up and raises then his horny hand.
Silence—gruesome—dull—and thick—and black.
Ah, would we were in Hannibal, alack!
The stinging prosecution states its case.
What chance is there for us? 'Twould be but waste
To bandy words at such a time as this.
And fruitless is our cause—our faces fade—
We cannot prove that ice in Hell is made.
And then conviction! How we fear the wrack!
And silence—gruesome—dull—and thick—and black.
Now comes the punishment, vile poisons—slime
We take. Forty bottles at a time.
The antidote we find is worse by far
Than e'en the poison! By the star—
By Sirius there—we vow Beelzebub
Ne'er suffered equal tortures! Here's the rub:
Ere we have convalesced from draughts of oil,
Our naked skins red irons sear and boil,
And fearful spiked and sharpened club and bat
Beat us where we oft' were wont to sat!
Eternities it is ere it is o'er
And all aquiver drop we to the floor.
What this terrific night has been we see,
But Lord, what will the Freshman's future be!
Silence—gruesome—dull—and thick—and black.
The fiery demons turn to us their back
And counsel take . . . What is that clarion call?
More tortures of the inquisitional?
No, 'tis not that! Afright is now the band
And Pralma bursts the door drawn sword in hand.
The stately Hix, the iron Scoop advance—
Ratnerian voice proclaims: "The devils dance!"
And Student Council bringing up the rear,
Lets fly a million epithets that tear
The hearts of those vile demons and two throats
Are severed while the yearling stands and gloats!
The demon hordes have fled and now supreme
Stands Pralma, sword upheld and all agleam!
And now the air is dank with blood—alack!
There's silence—gruesome—dull—and thick—and black!

The Leap Year Lock

THE aura of popularity about the heads of various comely gentlemen about the Quad has been dispelled! No more need the homely Freshman gaze with awed wonder upon the tall, handsome Junior surrounded by a bevy of beautiful young girls on the steps of Ridgley Library and murmur, "Gosh, he sure must be a keen guy!" No longer should the studious, book-buried Sophomore look piquantly on the girl-draped fusser in the archway and declaim, "Would that I were he"; and the ugly duckling, waddling across the arcade, need nevermore sigh when he sees a happy, pharmacy-bound group and mutter, "Why 'en'ell ain't I a Adonis?" Fussing is all right. No girl will frigidly refuse to recognize young Gerad Van Blount when he accosts her at Student Life office, and reply, "I gotta date," as he invites her to share the copious and lucid nectar at the drug store. Fussing is all right. But it doesn't mean anything. And all since the Leap Year Lock.

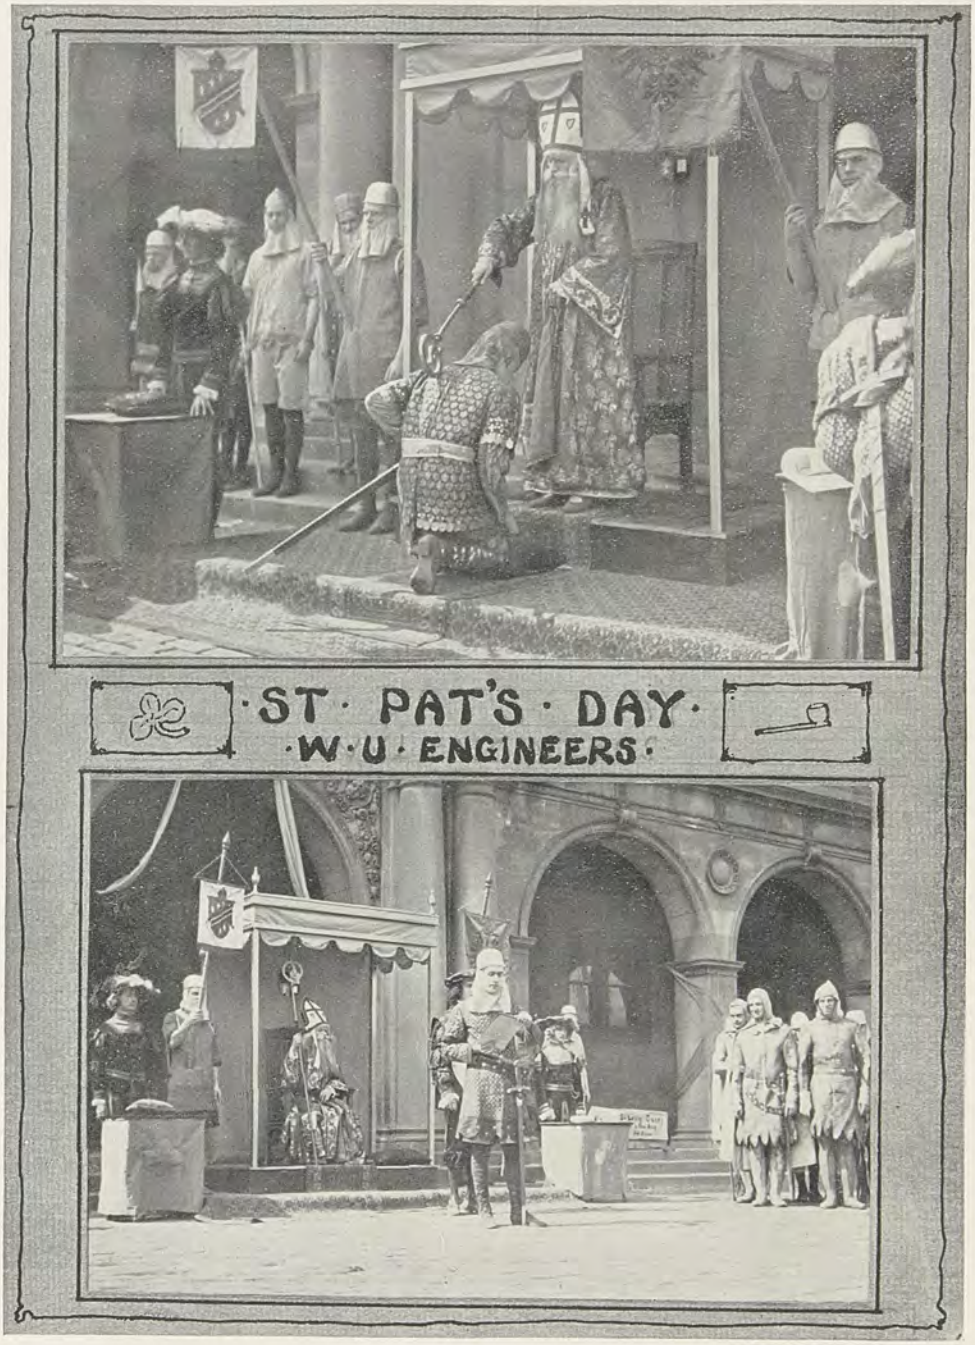

The affair planned by the Quad Apollos to prove their omnipotent popularity so that they could float gloatingly down the ensuing weeks on clouds cast about them by feminine approbation, resulted in harsh disillusionment. It's all very well when young Lochinvar comes out of the West on his steed, Excalibur, but when the reins are in the hands of the bride and the groom is in the power of a dastardly female, it's different.

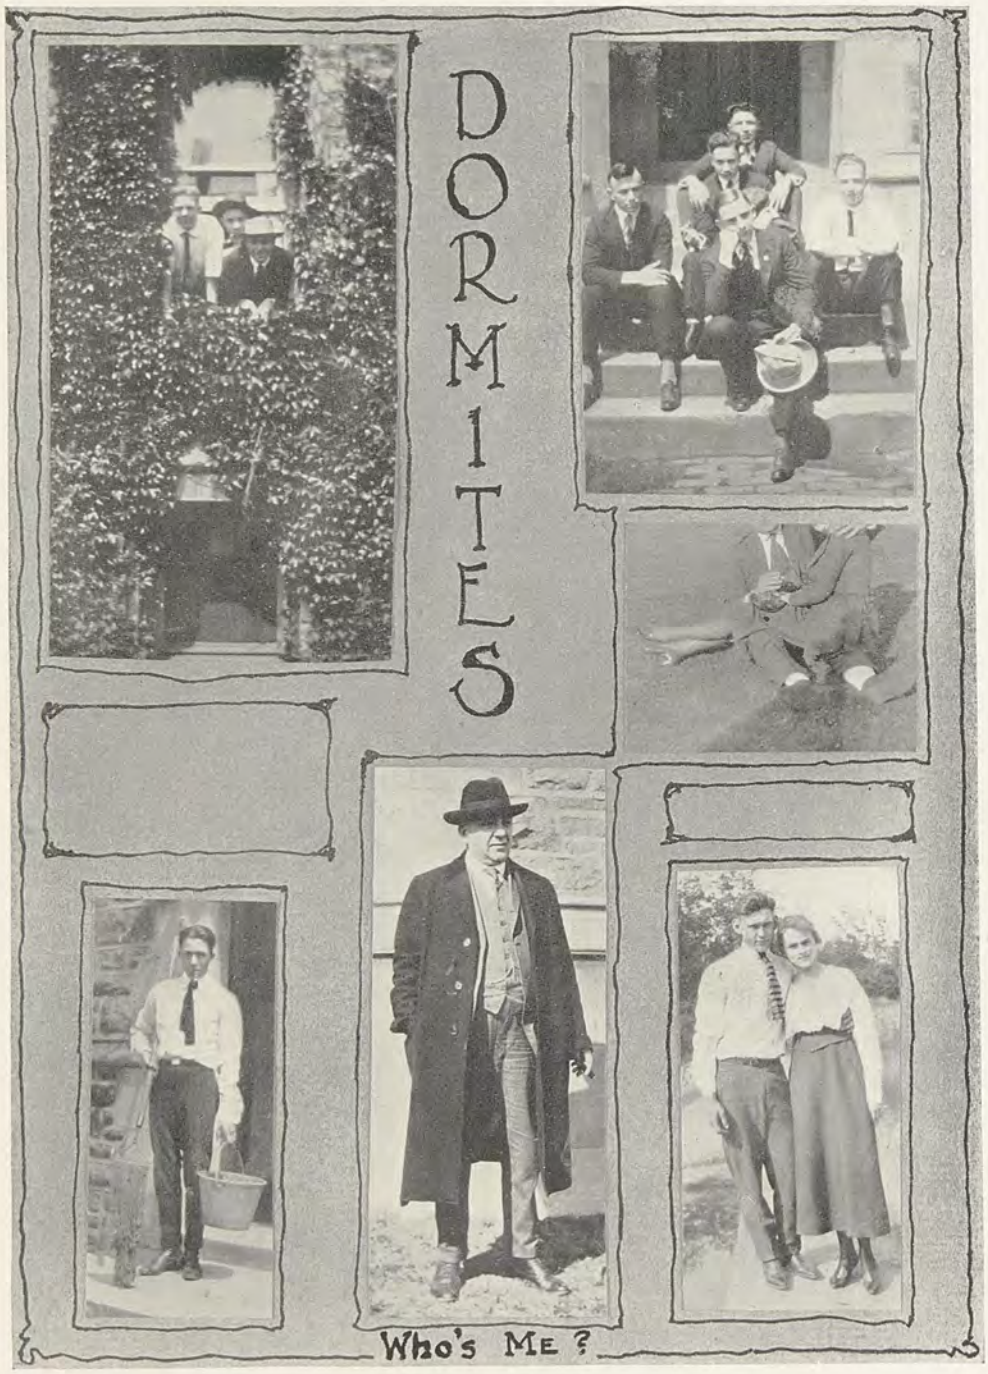

J. Hixon Kinsella, man-about-Quad, and the usual cynosure of worshipful feminine eyes, became suddenly religious.

"Of course I had plenty of invitations," Hixon admitted, "but it's the first day of Lent and I oughta stay home."

Julian Walter Goldstein, who in his puerile years was forced to grow a mustache to keep the women away, announced that he would spend a quiet evening at home. Erwin Staudinger skillfully extricated himself from the dilemma and thereby saved his reputation by issuing an edict that his Freshman sister, Helen, must take him. He entered the sumptuous ballroom decorating her arm. Payne Ratner was out of town; and Guy Her-

The Glee and Mandolin Club

LAST year's Glee and Mandolin Club trip was postponed until the first week in May, after the S.A.T.C. was disbanded. The tour, as arranged, was through the central and western part of Missouri. The first town visited was Mexico, where an evening concert was given before a very appreciative audience. A reception was given at Hardin College after the performance.

The next concert was an afternoon one at Moberly. A tea had been planned at the country club, but because of the rain a dance was given in town instead. The concert in Sedalia the following evening was followed by a dance, at which the Washington men had a very good time.

Next came the big jump to Kansas City, where the performance was given before a capacity house. The strain was beginning to tell on the men by this time and instead of going to a dance they all went to bed. The following afternoon a concert was given in Carthage, followed by a dance.

Two concerts were given in Joplin the following day. It had been originally planned to give a concert at Springfield, but because of the wonderful reception they were given by the Joplin people, the clubs decided not to go to Springfield, but to give another concert in Joplin instead. Both of these concerts were followed by dances at the Connor Hotel roof garden. The dance in the evening broke up early because the fellows had the sacred rites of Whiffletree to perform before the night was over. 'Tis said that they were performed right well, at least so some of the first-year men said, and no one should know better than they.

The Friday following the return home the club gave the concert at the Odeon before a large audience. The St. Louis concert was a fitting close to a very successful season, which undoubtedly did much to make the name of Washington University better known in the surrounding country.

This year the Glee and Mandolin Club trip was called off, after having been twice postponed, once because of the coal strike and once on account of the influenza. Consequently, instead of having a week's experience on a stage, the clubs were forced to give the two St. Louis concerts without any stage experience. Both concerts this year were longer than any previous ones, the first one being a little too long. The Odeon was comfortably filled on both nights by an audience which was not backward in showing its appreciation of the men's efforts.

The New School of Dentistry

IN 1919 the course in the School of Dentistry was increased one year, making it a four-year course, including one year pre-dental work in the college. This change necessarily eliminated the Senior Class of 1920, and added to the size and strength of the graduating class in 1921.

There were three Seniors who returned this year from service, however, and they are receiving their degrees, which would have been given them the preceding year had not the war intervened.

It has been recently announced that the authorities of Washington University will next year add two more years to the course in the School of Dentistry, making it a six-year course and putting the school on a par with the School of Medicine in standards. This would include two years of pre-dental work "on the hill" before the student could enter the School of Dentistry.

It is believed that work on the erection of the new building for the School of Dentistry will begin during the coming summer. The present plan is to erect the building alongside of the School of Medicine buildings, at Euclid and Scott avenues.

Said this Young Lady from Washington U:

"If you use the 'Hatchet'
—and tell the truth
—you will surely be advertised
—George Washington proved that."

So we gave her a page advertisement.

And here's the truth we have to tell:

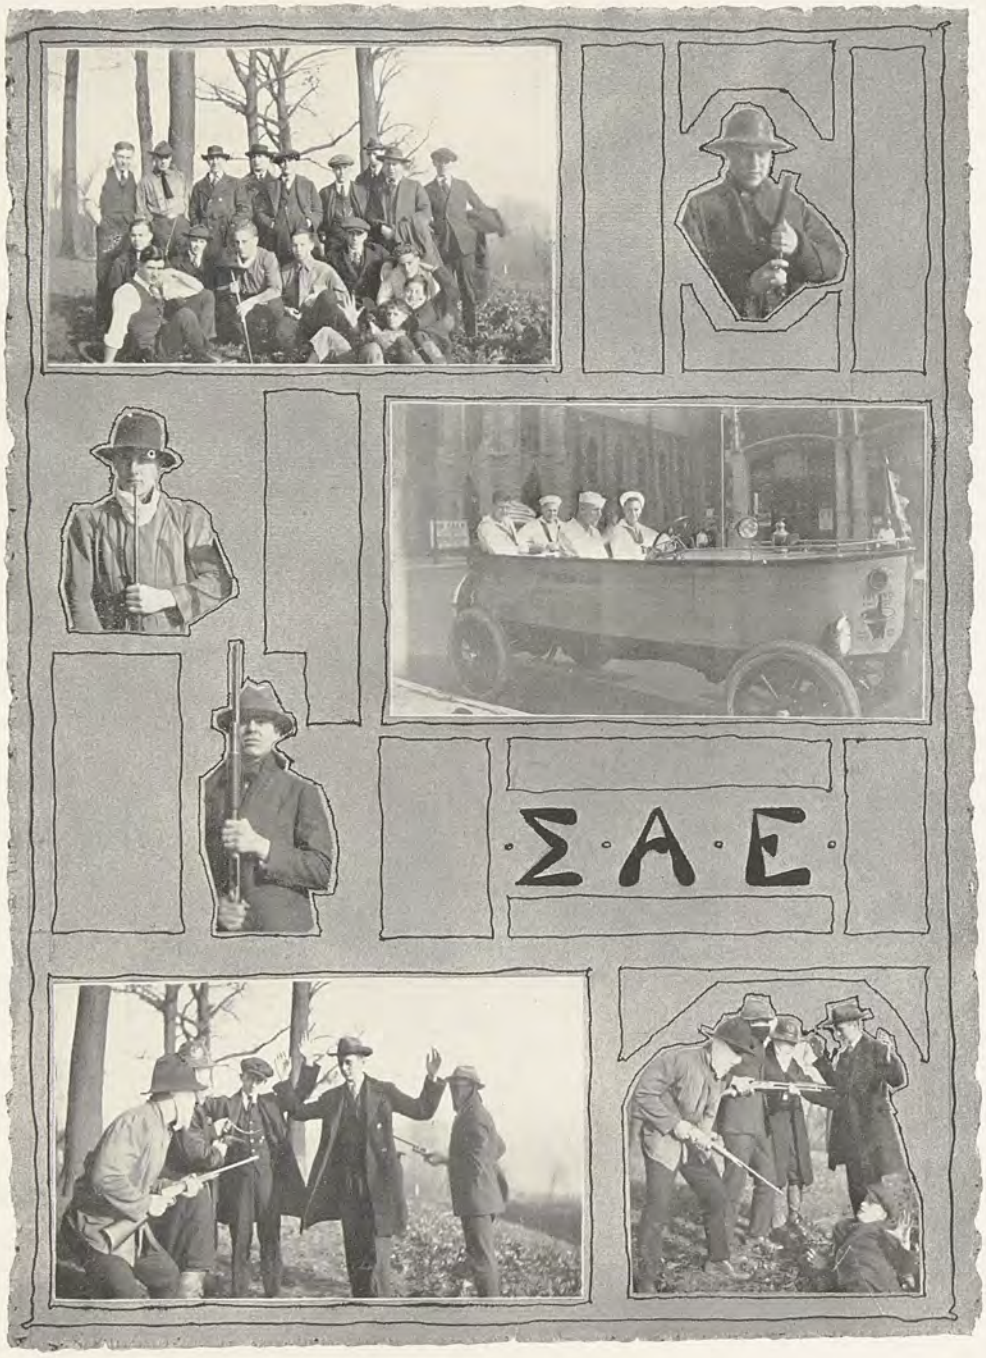

"If you save your money
—and bank at the Commerce
—you will surely be independent
—Mathematics proves that."

We cordially invite the accounts, checking and savings, of Washington University students and alumni. As to the amount: Whatever suits you, likewise suits us.

S. ROY CULBERTSON AND L. N. CULBERTSON—WASHINGTON U. GRADUATES

The morning of November 15 witnessed enthusiastic demonstrations on the Quad by students of every department. The architects had as usual prepared a barbarous parade and fervently gave their pagan yells. The pre-medics, too, exhibited their zeal in a slow march about the Quad carrying the corpse of the prematurely conquered Tiger. The lawyers congregated before the School of Law and, ignoring the proximity of class time, gave a spontaneous exhibition of Pikeway spirit. Formed in lock-step, they executed a snake dance, and stopping at frequent intervals, formed compact groups to give their yells.

At the termination of classes the automobile parade formed at the gym and thirty machines laden with screaming Washingtonians rode through the downtown streets and gave surprised St. Louis a demonstration of cheering that was only a harbinger of what was to come in the afternoon. The previous night a union meeting at Francis gym was attended by hundreds of students and alumni and the coach had spoken a few words, giving assurance that the team would do the best it could. It was undoubtedly the climax of the year. True, ten days later the St. Louis University team was met and defeated 7 to 0, but the Pikers played almost half-heartedly. The peak of all enthusiasm was reached November 15. Alumni and students had backed the team with thousands of dollars and—

It was too bad. But each man of the team fulfilled the promise of the coach and gave the best that was in him. And the only remark heard as the dejected Washingtonians left the stands in the cold, misty light of the early autumn evening was, "It was a good game, but we'll show 'em a few things next time!"

ring, Rick Whitton, and numerous others became suddenly ill. Steinberg materialized, but the following day the girl who brought him announced her engagement—to someone else.

A pathethic incident was revealed when Louis Roth announced that Walter Haase had appropriated a notice he had posted in the women's room to the effect that he (Louis) had no previous engagement for that night; and enticed away a bid. Walter came to the dance with Bing Collins.

The holocaust started promptly at nine-fifteen. The floor was comfortably crowded with an uncomfortable, miserable, and disagreeable personnel. While the women who knew how to lead led off, and those that didn't were led off, Frank Simmons began dancing with Vadie Alden. There was an astonishing lack of stags at the doorway. Only Bing Collins was waiting the delinquent Walter. She gazed coldly at Warren Healey when he asked her to dance, for it was a breach of etiquet. It was not man's mission to propose (dancing).

"I love his hair," Bing said later, "but of course I couldn't start the dance with him when I brought Walter."

Elmer Gaylord passed by with Mildred Petring and he forced a smile when they collided suddenly with Al Welle and Sonny (Speed) Murphy, who were having some difficulty in keeping step. It was probably the first time Al and Sonny had ever danced together. Frank Simmons, with a bored look, glided laboriously by with Vadie.

"Isn't this so unusual?" Casey Spear cleverly remarked to Pat Kinealy as she stepped gracefully upon his shine.

"Yes," he replied with a fantastic stare.

Fred Spindler and Pony Lawnin were trying out some ruthless steps near the orchestra when Frank Simmons, with a worried look, glided arduously by with Vadie. Bing, still waiting for Walter, was becoming impatient, for it was fifteen minutes since he had disappeared within the mysteries of the men's cloak room. Van Brokaw stepped up like a true cavalier and offered to relieve her by dancing with her.

"No," she said tumultuously. Warren Healy, it seems, was by now dancing with the eighth girl, having evidently solved the problem. Possibly vamped 'em, for he was strangely happy.

Frank Simmons, with a vexed look, glided industriously by with Vadie. Octavius Mendez, the Chilean consul to St. Louis, was teaching a girl whom he had just met a new and informal step, and suddenly something seemed wrong with the music. It was all accompaniment. The melody was entirely missing and there in the center of the floor was the pianist, Freddy, who had been seduced by Gayle Anderson. At this moment, Frank Simmons, with a fixed look, gliding seduously by with Vadie, suggested that they take a walk. Which they did, and the pianist soon returned to his instrument.

Walter Haase rushed into the room, a ghastly leer playing about his face. "Where's Bing?" he shouted nervously.

"Here I am," she replied, from a recess in the wall, "where the deuce you been?"

"Oh, I-I-oh-I," he stammered voluptuously, "I wanted to keep you waiting fifteen minutes just for fun and I fell asleep! What dance is this?" he asked as the orchestra struck up the solemn strains of "Home, Sweet Home with Variations."

The dance was over and Norman Begeman, who attended with a girl whose name he would not divulge, was the first at the cloak room. The dance was over and final returns showed that Van Brokaw danced with eighteen different girls and Warren Healey with seventeen.

"All were pleased," both stated.

At the Cosmo soon after, drawing out a handsome five-dollar bill to pay for a gorgeous steak Walter had just consumed, Bing said, "I just had a wonderful time."

Kinsella, who it seems, is editor of Student Life, and should therefore have something to say upon all occasions, said, "I guess I didn't get more invitations because all the girls thought that someone else had asked me first. It's a funny world."

Goldstein, the editor of The Dirge, who never has anything to say, but says it anyway, stated confidentially, "Ain't this a funny world? Ha! Ha!"

For Extra Tires and Automobiles

AUTOMOBILES now in use in the United States are valued at $7,800,000,000. 90% of these cars carry one or two extra tires; 75% of these car owners are at the mercy of the tire and automobile thieves for the reason they have been unable to obtain a satisfactory tire and auto lock.

The Doyle Cross Lock was designed to meet a universal requirement of this kind, and has been manufactured of the very best material, equipped with a Yale lock and is an integral part of the steel cable which securely locks your extra tires or your car.

The Doyle Cross Lock has met with instant approval of owners and automobile insurance companies as well as the police authorities of various cities. Ask your accessory dealer or garage man to place one of these locks on your car, or obtain one direct from us.

Ode to Pete

Some there are that star in English,
 Others shine in Math;
In every class are stars and suns
 That shine upon our path.

The jagged rocks and roaring streams,
 The chasms we must jump;
And every hindrance, great and small,
 That makes a student hump.

All honor to the sharks who can
 On fairy wings glide by;
But here's regards to the poor bonehead
 With the brains of an average guy.

His brilliance never gets him through—
 'Tis laboring like the Turk;
Here's regards to the poor bonehead
 Whose grades are won by work.

A choice collection of pert aphorisms and timely epigrams may be assembled any evening in Section D, Liggett. The incentive for the original assembly of vocabulary seems to be a pair of beautifully gilded cubes which gallop promiscuously over a blanketed floor impelled by a number of enthusiastic undergrads. Following are some of the choicest and their propagators:

Toddie Kamp—"Dicey, now be good."
Pete Pemberton—"Fall off, you!"
Ollie Kraehe—"I'm off in a cloud of rainbows."
Ralph Fuchs—"Come on, little Phoebe; five for Ralphy."
Jimmie Conzelman—"Good old Conzie, he's a —!"
Judge Rassieur—"I ain't avaricious, but —."
Erv Steinberg—"Hell, box cars again."
Allen Modisette—"Be a craps, four or ten."
Morris Carnovsky—"Of all sad words of tongue or pen, I sure hate throwing another ten."
Walter Lewin—"Shix, dische."
Dick Kremer—"Big Dick for Richard."
Karl Spencer—"Who'll fade the Croix de Guerre?"
Hale Moore—"Oh, you incipient insects."
Israel Treiman—"Considering the pecuniary advantages, I need a six."

The Missouri State Life Insurance Co.

prides itself particularly on its standing in its Home City. That this pride is not without justification is evidenced by the increase of new business sold for the first three months of 1920 over a like period in 1919.

Life Insurance Salesmanship now ranks as a profession, and is attracting University Men to it in large numbers. Not only is the intrinsic character of the work of the highest order, but as is unusual in such work, the remuneration is from the very beginning more than satisfying.

The Missouri State Life has a line of policies which are easily marketed, and has attractive propositions to offer prospective life insurance salesmen of ability.

And last, though not least, there was the big St. Pat's Day celebration, which culminated on the evening of March 17 with a St. Pat's Masque Ball, at which Elizabeth Bradshaw was named the Queen of Love and Beauty. St. Patrick knighted about forty-three engineers and enrolled them in the "Order of the Guard."

So ended a progressive year at Washington University, and as old ex-'21 dug into his corner to await the school opening next October, he confidently looked forward to another banner year.

A Dormitory

"A dormitory is a haven of shelter intended for the sojourning undergrad who is neither blessed with a superabundancy of currency which would allow him to patronize the more exclusive hostelries in town, or a number of gullible relatives in the same city as the university," Webster would have said had he desired to go at great length into the subject.

But in addition to the fundamental requisites of the dorms, one may acquire the undisputed right to the pursuit of wealth, health, and happiness.

First: wealth. Of what use is wealth but to purchase the essentials of the other two ingredients of the dorms. Here all possessions are held in common, a sort of communist arrangement—clothes, books, smokes, furniture. One can never be certain when he is off the campus that Jake will not be balancing one's pipe between his teeth when he returns, or that Astrophel will not be gracing one's Sunday shoes. As to money in itself. With a skillful and facile hand and a glib tongue, one may regulate the course of the galloping dominoes, and—wealth!

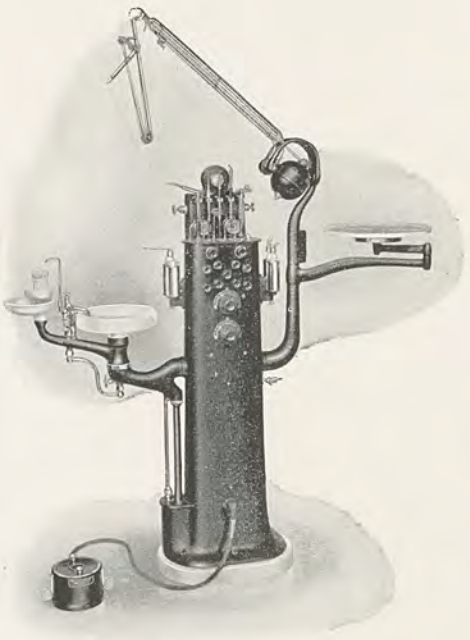

Health! Who has ever heard of an ill dormite? How could one be ill and consume the commons' common grub? Enough of that. It logically follows.

And last: happiness! Flunks may come and cons may go, but happiness goes on forever. "Momus is the only God," explains the dormite as he balances a bucket of water on his neighbor's door and hides behind a convenient bureau as the unfortunate enters and distributes the precariously placed fluid about the room and among his person. The ensuing flight in his direction of various solids is indicative merely of the appreciative powers of the recipient of the bucket, for what is a bucket of water in a sea of mirth?

Indeed, the prerogative of the dormite to the pursuit of wealth, health and happiness is ideal—and the chase but short.

YOU spend most of your time in your office. An office properly arranged and equipped will be an inspiration for your development.

Our department for Office Planning and suggestions for Office Arrangement is at your service.

Saving Fifty-Cent Dollars and Cashing Them at Par

We are going through a period of abnormal prices. In most instances a dollar buys only half as much as formerly. If you deposit these cheap dollars in a Liberty Bank Savings Account they will greatly increase in value when the inevitable price adjustment occurs, and besides you will receive an additional profit in interest at 3%, compounded semi-annually.

One dollar is sufficient to start. Do it now. Tomorrow never comes.

STANDARD EIGHT
A Powerful Car

Sit at the wheel of a Standard Eight before you buy your next automobile. You can decide for yourself if it is the best-driving car you have ever handled.

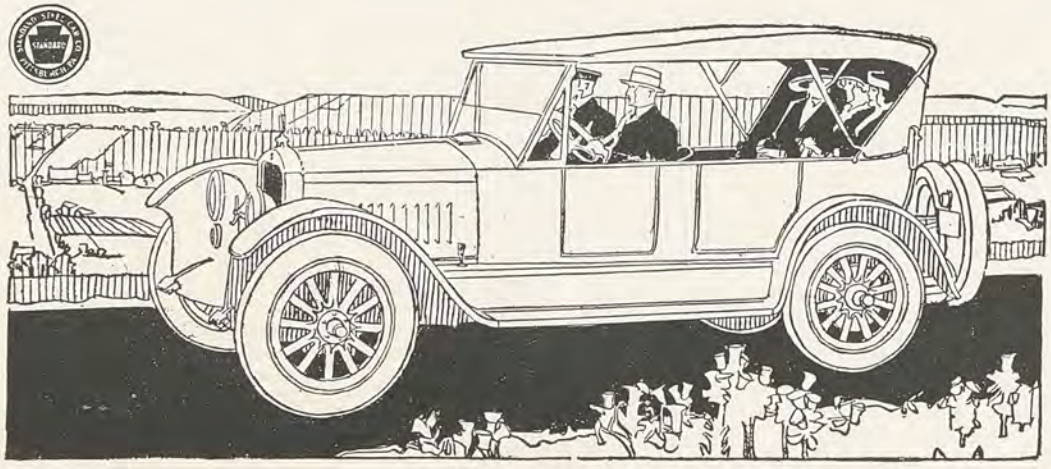

Judge Its Power for Yourself

This car, which unfailingly responds to every demand made upon it, has won a superior position. The mechanical perfection of the Standard Eight permits that faultless operation which reduces driving effort to a minimum.

One may keep pace with slow-moving traffic or hold the open road with the same ease. The Standard Eight will answer demands which the average car owner will seldom even attempt to make.

Well-balanced, powerful, and light, with perfect finish and appointments, the Standard Eight is a car which carries pride of ownership under any circumstance. See the new models at our showrooms.

Happy Days on the Campus

College days are the happiest days in life. You old grads know this full well, and you students will realize it more and more as the day of your own commencement draws closer and closer.

So that you may be happy and fit for your daily work—whether as student on the Quad or old grad in the business world, you must be well and fit.

A large percentage of illness, the sort that keeps you from your work, is due to a cough or cold, or the results of a cough or cold—influenza and pneumonia.

It was to combat these illnesses that the formula for ORIUM was developed and manufactured by a St. Louis concern. Within the space of a few months it became an ever-ready and dependable relief in thousands of homes over the entire country.

ORIUM is a quick and powerful relief and a wonderful preventive. It keeps men and women fit for the proper performance of their daily interests.

Many other uses have been found for ORIUM. Rubbed on it is a welcome relief for headaches; athletes have found that it soothes sore muscles; others have found it a valuable application for insect bites, burns and bruises.

Liquid Orium

Orium Salve

ORIUM prepared in two forms—as a salve and in liquid form. Treatments for colds, coughs and other similar disorders are the same with ORIUM SALVE or with LIQUID ORIUM.

They should be rubbed on the affected parts freely, the fumes inhaled when a bit is heated in a spoon, or inserted in the nose. ORIUM SALVE is inserted in the nose with the little finger and snuffed in, while LIQUID ORIUM should be inserted in the nose with the atomizer.

Laxated Pepsin Tablets

Treatments of this sort are always best aided by a mild but effective laxative. "LAXATED" PEPSIN TABLETS, "the flush of health," were manufactured by the Orium Company to meet this requirement, and are recommended for treatment in conjunction with either ORIUM SALVE or LIQUID ORIUM.

Warren Flynn says:

The younger you are when you insure, the lower is your rate. A man taking a policy at 40 pays nearly twice as much per year for the same policy as a man starting at 20.

The things to consider are Policy Contract, which should be so flexible, as to provide income for your family in lieu of your earning capacity: Income for yourself in event of total disability: Income for your old age.

Premium deposits should be reduced by substantial dividends, making net cost very low.

There are many good companies in which to insure, but none better than the

The Only Objection Removed

While rimless glasses are by far the most becoming and comfortable type of glasses, their liability to excessive lens breakage has heretofore prevented their general adoption.

With the advent of

"Kant-break"
Rimless Glasses

(Patent Applied For)

The only objection to rimless glasses is removed. The U. S. Bureau of Standards has found by actual test that Kant-Break lenses are 300% stronger than ordinary rimless lenses.

The extreme lightness and flexibility of Kant-Breaks makes them especially desirable during warm weather.

The first cost is the same as other glasses, but the final cost is much less because you have no expense for replacing broken lenses.

Your present glasses can be duplicated by me in Kant-Breaks without referring to your original prescription.

Templar
The Superfine Small Car

The TEMPLAR did not merely follow the trend of modern engineering and designing—rather its creation marked an epoch in automobile construction and placed the TEMPLAR on a par with America's finest cars.

Unmatched in materials and workmanship this "SUPERFINE SMALL CAR" is powered by a motor which wins unstinted praise from layman and expert alike.

The TEMPLAR is a permanent value, slow to depreciate under hard usage. So those who seek a car today, that will meet the demands of tomorrow, find their ideal in the TEMPLAR.

A RECIPE

Mix a knowledge of what constitutes good printing with an organization and equipment to produce it; add to these a bit of skill and thought in typography and a judicious selection of paper stock, the use of care in presswork, in colors or straight black ink, and the whole properly trimmed or bound. Season with a good supply of courtesy and attention to details, and keep stirring until well done and promptly delivered. This applies to small office forms and tickets or programs, as well as to the larger booklets, advertising folders and edition work. The result will be

Entering the World Electrical

THE graduate of today enters a world electrical.

Gathered from the distant waterfalls or generated by the steam turbine, electric power is transmitted to the busiest city or the smallest country place.

Through the co-ordination of inventive genius with engineering and manufacturing resources, the General Electric Company has fostered and developed to a high state of perfection these and numerous other applications.

And so electricity, scarcely older than the graduate of today, appears in a practical, well developed service on every hand.

Recognize its power, study its applications to your life's work, and utilize it to the utmost for the benefit of all mankind.

Use Saccharin Instead of Sugar to Sweeten Food, Tea and Coffee

Formerly Used Only for Medicinal Purposes, but Is Now Available for Unlimited Household Use — 500 Times Sweeter Than Sugar

While necessity is the mother of invention, science usually solves all the unusual problems which arise, especially those pertaining to foods incident to our sustenance.

The great war has materially affected our food supplies, including sugar, which promises to dwindle in allotment to housekeepers, cafes, candy manufacturers, the canning industry, and to others who use sugar.

Our Government demands that we save, and sugar is one of the important items. With a suitable substitute available which will sweeten for taste just as well as sugar, we may gratify our desires for sweets and at the same time perform a patriotic duty by conserving the sugar supply.

Recent research has revealed that saccharin, which is the sweetest compound known, is destined to displace sugar as a sweetening agent the world over, and while it has been extensively used for over thirty-five years, recognition of its virtues for universal use seems to have been dependent upon an economic era such as confronts us today.

Saccharin is five hundred times sweeter than sugar, also much cheaper. Undoubtedly the major portion of the sugar used in every household is in tea and coffee, and, as saccharin rivals sugar for this purpose, the saving in both money and sugar will be tremendous through its use. In fact, thousands upon thousands have been using saccharin for years in preference to sugar for their tea and coffee.

Physicians are unanimous in recommending saccharin instead of sugar for sweetening foods for those suffering from diabetes, gout, obesity and other kindred ailments. Doctors invariably use it to sweeten modified milk for infant feeding, when sugar has been found to be injurious; so it is apparent that saccharin may be used with impunity.

Housewives will be interested to know that in "putting up" canned goods, such as corn and tomatoes, and in bottling catsup, when sweetened with saccharin they do not sour, which often happens from fermentation when sugar is used. As saccharin will not ferment and sweetens perfectly, you will be justified as a safeguard against taint from ferment, to select canned goods or catsup when purchasing, that bears the name saccharin somewhere on the label.

It should be understood that saccharin adds nothing whatsoever to foods or beverages other than sweetness, for which it is intended. It is a white solid crystalline substance and is not a drug, but is related to the same chemical family as salt and is used for seasoning in cooking, primarily in the same way.

The French, who are noted epicureans, have adopted saccharin as a sweetening agent. Germany issued it to her soldiers as a war ration and England and Italy are also using it.

While saccharin has been used here in a great measure for many years, it is now evident that it will be more commonly used due to its economy, great sweetening powers and the support it will afford in relieving the sugar shortage.

Pharmaceutical manufacturers compress saccharin into tablet form for household use, each tablet representing the sweetening power of a lump of sugar.

L'Envoi

IN the university life of the average man and woman there are only four years—four years which the experience of the future will look back upon as the brightest and happiest of one's existence. To portray this happiest period there are four yearbooks, each a stepping stone resplendent with richer knowledge and added experience. In the future the past will be vividly painted and fondly recalled by the yearbooks of college days.

The 1921 Hatchet Board has attempted to publish a yearbook of student days, rather than a perfunctory university catalogue. No time or expense has been spared in placing in the hands of Washingtonians a book which they may cherish in the future. If success has been achieved, the Board is satisfied; if not, it wishes greater and more complete success to the 1922 Board.
